

Doug Collins-President, The Sherry Lansing Foundation

Among Doug's duties at the SLF is the management of PrimeTime LAUSD, which recruits and places volunteers in K-12 Los Angeles public school classrooms.

In addition, he is a key advisor to the EnCorps Teachers Program and serves as the liaison between Ms. Lansing and the Chief of Staff of the University of California Board of Regents.

Doug also supervises the foundation's initiatives with the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Greater Los Angeles, the Carter Center, Encore.org, the Entertainment Industry Foundation (EIF), the Foundation for the National Institutes of Health (FNIH), Friends of Cancer Research, the Independent Citizens' Oversight Committee (ICOC) of the California Institute for Regenerative Medicine (CIRM), the W.M. Keck Foundation, the L.A. Opera, the Albert and Mary Lasker Foundation, Stop Cancer, Special Olympics World Games Los Angeles 2015, and the University of Chicago Lab Schools.

Prior to launching his career in the nonprofit sector, Doug served as Director of Development in the Paramount Motion Picture Group and headed two independent production companies under the aegis of Paramount Network Television.

He earned a B.A. in Communications from the University of South Florida and a Graduate Certificate from the Applied Gerontology Institute at California State